DETAILED ACTION

Drawings

1. The subject matter of this application admits of illustration by a drawing to facilitate understanding of the invention. Applicant is required to furnish a drawing under 37 CFR 1.81. No new matter may be introduced in the required drawing.

Double Patenting

2. A rejection based on double patenting of the "same invention" type finds its support in the language of 35 U.S.C. 101 which states that "whoever invents or discovers any new and useful process ... may obtain a patent therefor ..." (Emphasis added). Thus, the term "same invention," in this context, means an invention drawn to identical subject matter. See Miller v. Eagle Mfg. Co., 151 U.S. 186 (1894); In re Ockert, 245 F.2d 467, 114 USPQ 330 (CCPA 1957); and In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970).

A statutory type (35 U.S.C. 101) double patenting rejection can be overcome by canceling or amending the conflicting claims so they are no longer coextensive in scope. The filing of a terminal disclaimer cannot overcome a double patenting rejection based upon 35 U.S.C. 101.

3. Claims 1-3 are provisionally rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 as claiming the same invention as that of claims 1-3 of copending Application No. 09/960,715. This is a provisional double patenting rejection since the conflicting claims have not in fact been patented.

4. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

5. Claims 4-5 provisionally rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-3 of copending Application No. 09/960,715. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because both the present application and the copending application discloses a method for providing one or more secure transactions between a first entity and at least one additional entity. However, Application No. 09/960,715 fails to teach or fairly suggest wherein the secure card number is readable by a magnetic card reader and wherein the secure card number is readable from either track 1 or track 2 of the magnetic card. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to employ a secure card number that is readable from either track 1 or track 2 of the magnetic card by a magnetic card reader in order to provide a card that is readable by conventional magnetic card reader that exist in retail stores.

This is a provisional obviousness-type double patenting rejection because the conflicting claims have not in fact been patented.

Allowable Subject Matter

6. Claims 6-16 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

7. The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter: The prior art of record, taken alone or in combination, fail to teach or fairly suggest a method for providing one or more secure transactions between a first entity and at least one additional entity, comprising the steps of using an electronic card to generate a secure card number wherein the secure card number is comprised of, among other things, a Transaction Information Block (TIB), wherein the TIB is used by the money source to determine which of plurality of account numbers associated with the first entity should be used for the first transaction; and wherein the TIB is used by the money source to determine whether the device which generated the secure card number has changed status condition.

Conclusion

8. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Wong (US 6,607,127) discloses an electronic device used in the processing of financial and security smart card transactions using the existing magnetic card storage medium processing infrastructure; and Fak et al (US 4,214,230) discloses a personal identification system.
